All: Attached is a fairly complete version of the Wallace Yard CD, incorporating discussions in Coeur d'Alene last week and a few additional Gov't contributions this week.

The most substantive change, as discussed last week, is probably Para. 11 for funding of BPRP.

On definition of FROWW, my edits return the text to the precise language that the U.S. and UPRR agreed in the first CD, which was the same language proposed in our Special Notice for this CD. I don't know how we wandered so far afield, with one layer of changes on top of another, but I believe the language here is one we should all be prepared to accept because we have before. The real work on the Spur Lines, of course, should be defined in the RADs. Toward that end, I believe the field activity yesterday will help us all move closer to conclusion.

Early next week, the Govts need to see the full package of revised SOW, RAWP, and RADs. First up, I will be looking for the revised SOW on Monday.

Questions, etc., you know how to reach me.

Thanks.
